SUR 2012

Málaga, 18, 19 & 20 May - 2012

Third edition of the international meeting of hemp in Andalusia.

There are many reasons that make it necessary to attend this event that, after two editions, has established itself as one of the most important fairs of the sector and the culture of cannabis in Europe.

- Andalusia 's climate and a culture closely linked to the Arab world as the gateway between North Africa and Europe, has led to it being the second region in number of growers and companies specializing in cannabis growing.
- Malaga is an ideal location, as it is strategically located in Andalusia, runs one of the most important international airports in Spain, and is equipped with good communications and infrastructure systems, which connect directly to all major cities in Spain, Europe and North Africa.
- The weather in Malaga is very nice, which gives added value to the stay, especially in the month of May. In addition, the city has a wide range of cultural and leisure activities.
- Thanks to the architecture of the building and the halls, there is no restriction of space, which provides dynamic and flexible options when choosing a space in the location and construction of the stands.
- The Trade Fairs and Congress Center of Malaga is one of the most modern and accessible in Spain.
